

QUEENS MEMORY

WHAT IS THE QUEENS MEMORY PROJECT?

Natalio Tabaco scrapbook, 1966. Courtesy of the Tabaco Family. Archives at Queens Public Library

ABOUT US

Queens Memory is a community-driven archiving program. We partner with individuals and local organizations to create and preserve:

- Oral history interviews
- Photographs
- Other archival records of local families, neighborhoods, and communities

We also present public programming throughout the year including:

- Story sharing events
- Preservation workshops
- Talks by local historians
- Artist-led workshops

To learn more about our work, scan the QR code here.

FREE RESOURCES

Learn how to record and preserve your family's stories or your community's history by joining our free workshops on:

- Recording interviews
- Digitizing photos and papers
- Learning tips for backing up digital files

GET INVOLVED

Our team is here to help you be the best memory keeper you can be.

QueensMemory@queenslibrary.org

(718) 990-8532

QueensMemory.org

   @QueensMemory